

My Human Rights Children's Rights Art Competition Invitation

Dear Youth,

The Malta Human Rights Education Centre ("MHREC") are thrilled to invite individuals up to 18 years of age to take part in our art competition, 'My Human Rights'.

This competition is part of MHREC's Empowering Children: Building a Rights-Respecting Community campaign within the project "Strengthening Children's Rights Advocacy through International Training".

This competition provides a unique platform for individuals to express their thoughts, emotions, and ideas, emphasising the critical connection between art and human rights education. We believe that this is an opportunity for you to use your creativity as a powerful voice in advocating for change and raising awareness about human rights issues.

Art is a powerful medium that can inspire, provoke thought, and initiate dialogue. It is a channel through which young individuals can address important human rights topics and contribute to a more inclusive, just, and equal world.

This competition encourages you to explore the various dimensions of children's rights and express your perspective through your creative abilities. We firmly believe that art is not only a form of self-expression but also a tool for positive change.
